

Pediatric and neonatology services:

Velocity Hospital offers comprehensive care for children, with specialized pediatricians and neonatologists in areas like pediatric surgery, cardiology, and oncology. The hospital has state-of-the-art NICU and PICU units for critically ill infants and children. Services include general pediatric medicine, immunization, and management of respiratory diseases and diabetes. Led by experts like Dr. Hardik R. Shah and Dr. Apoorva Shah, the department ensures the highest level of care for children and young people.